Work Product 2: Slides Describing Research Aims

Over the past two years, I have been working (alongside Dr. Rachael Gabriel) with data from the Reading Recovery Council of North America. In 2019, I created these slides to summarize for the Council the aims of a grant proposal we were working on. (We have since submitted this proposal to the NIH). This was a part of the process of gaining approval to use the data in our research.

The plots shown in the slides were created in R and show results of a preliminary analysis I conducted to support our grant proposal. I have included my notes from the presentation alongside the slides.
